We are committed to ensuring that your company will find great value in working with The Societies.

The Societies have been running successful events for the last 19 years, and for the last 16 years we have ran the largest Convention in Europe. In 2018 the London Convention attracted over 15,000 delegates and 200 brands.

The Societies has a membership of over 5,000 and are able to offer the trade a full advertising package. Packages are flexible to requirements and budgets. If you would like further information about our Convention, advertising in Professional Imagemaker magazine, The Societies Roadshows or any other form of advertising, please contact our office on 01745 356935.
